NEW READING BOOK for Schools.

THE MONITORIAL READER, or a Monitor to Youth, holding up to their view Models whereby to form their own Characters. By DANIEL

ADAMS, Author of Adams's New Arithmetic.

EXTRACTS FROM THE PREFACE.

THE MONITORIAL READER possesses distinctive traits. The object is to supply what is believed to be the great desideratum in our schools a series of exercises relating to what concerns the practical matters of life, truth, integrity, honesty, industry, temperance, forethought, frugality, patient endurance of adversity, and whatever else tends to form and fit the character of youth.

We wish to impress it on the minds of those, into whose hands these exercises shall come, now, in this seed-time of life, what is here so abundantly inculcated, that, Every man is emphatically the architect of his own fortune, — that with themselves it lies whether they shall ever be any thing or nothing that a mound capital to begin with does not weigh

a wh in the balance for or against them, that, coming into life with health, strength, capacity for labor,

education, a useful and respectable trade, habits of industry, sobriety, punctuality, frugality, and above all, with a GOOD AND CENSUED

CHARACTER, they have the best of all capital

a word capital, the nobles of all power, moral power, and the most certain means of honest and honorable accumulation and fortune, and may be sure, under circumstances ordinarily propitious, to rise to that competency of influence, respect, and general confidence, and that honorable measure of wealth and independence, which should fully satisfy

a reasonable and virtuous ambition.

EXTRACTS FROM RECOMMENDATIONS.

The influence will all be found on the side of virtue, morality and religion. Occasional comments are given. Difficult or unusual words are defined.

Prose and poetry are suitably intermingled.

It is hardly to be imagined that this book should fail of popularity. It certainly would not, had it not so many competitors that have got the start of it in the race. As it is, its mettle is such as to give it fair promise of ultimate success in the contest. Boston Recorder.

Dr. Adams: Having examined to some extent

your Monitorial Reader, I am pleased with its plan,

its object, and the manner in which it has been executed. It seems adapted to the intellectual and moral improvement of those for whose use it was designed. I trust it will prove to be what its author anticipates.

(Rev.) Z. S. BARSTOW, Keene.

It is just such a book as our New England boys and girls will be glad to see, for it inculcates in a pleasing manner, industry, frugality, truth, honesty,

temperance, peace, kindness, fortitude, and a cheerful piety. The Vocabulary, at the end, and the arrangement for defining words, will add to its value
in the hands of a judicious teacher.

(Rev.) ABIEL A. LIVERMORE, Keene.

We have also recommendations from a number of individuals and periodicals, among which are D.

Crosby, Preceptor of the High School Nashua; J.

Newton Brown, Professor of Theology at New Hampton. It is also adopted by the Associations of School Teachers in Cheshire and Hillsborough counties,

and by the School Committee of Concord.

Surveying practically taught by a teacher of thorough experience, and the advantage of a set of Surveying and Rail Road Instruments equal to any in the State, in connection with the Institution.

Price of Board from $1.00 to $1.50 per week.

Higher English, $3.50 to $4.00. Languages, $4.00.

DAILY WHIG AND COURIER.

JOHN S. SAYWARD, Editor.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1841,

Deplorable condition of the working Classes in Great Britain.

Humanity is forced to turn pale in contemplating the deplorable condition of the working classes in Great Britain a country that clothes a large portion of the globe, and yet her own children are naked a country lording it over every quarter of the world, and yet her children at home are dying for want of bread. What an awful defect in the social relations and political influences of that people, to cause such a display of suffering as is detailed in the following statement.

Mr. S. Crawford, Member of Parliament for Rochdale, in a late speech, made the following statement as to the condition of the manufacturing people of the town which he represented:

156 families lived upon, pr. head. s. d.

201	per week	0	0
508	do	1	0
1855	do	1	6
1500	do	1	9
875	do	2	0

Total visited, 5,442; five-sixths of whom had hardly a blanket; 50 families were without a blanket; and 47 families slept on chaff-beds and wood shavings.

STATE OF THE WEAVERS. There are about 14,000 looms in Bethnal Green, Spitalfields, Shoreditch, &c. About 3000 are quite out of work, and the 11,000 at work are only three-fourths of their time employed, which causes great distress and deprivation among those who are considered the respectable portion of the district.

The average earnings, when at work, are about 1s. 1d. each loom; from this is to be deducted 4s. 8d. per month 1s. 1s. 2d. per week, for expenses of turning in and twisting in, which leaves the miserable pittance of 6s. 4s. 2d. per week.

There are about 800 sons in the Bethnal Green poor house, and about 1,000 receiving out door relief.

There are hundreds without a bed to lie on, having parted with it for food. Cases are occurring every day, that weavers are parting with their looms and tools to obtain food for their starving family; those being the only things left of any value, that they can dispose of, and when they are gone, they are quite destitute, not a bed to lie on, not a chair to rest on, nor tools to work with. This is the heart-breaking situation of hundreds of the useful, industrious Spitalfield weavers.

Pawnbrokers and furniture brokers are so stocked with goods that they have great difficulty to find room to put them in their warehouses.

Three-fourths of the shopkeepers are insolvent; rents cannot be got in; to distract is of no use. All that could be sold is gone for food.

What then, may we not expect to hear from England. Will not these starving men with the thousands and thousands in London, and all over the kingdom, who are looking death in the face, exert their power to obtain by force the means of subsistence. Let us rather hope that the rich in England will deal justly with the poor, but its tardiness gives little hope, and not, and bloodshed, we fear, fierce and terrible, will be the result.

Weekly Summary.

The week commenced with a snow-storm, and General Frost laid an embargo upon our river, but not until all the vessels had gone down river. There are vessels below with heavy freights who may yet, perhaps, have an opportunity to come up, and discharge their cargoes, as, at the writing of this, there is a prospect of a thaw. Sleighing has been the order of the day, for the week, and the business of horse-shoeing has considerably improved. This is usually the harness maker's harvest, and the people have been so economical for the last few years in tying up their harnesses with cordine and twine that they must now purchase something more substantial, and at the same time elegant. They should abandon the use of wimkers to head-stalls as a plain cheek piece is vastly more comfortable for a horse, and makes him appear more elegant. By reading the advertisements in our paper, our friends will know where to apply for the best articles in this line. There has been a great improvement made in the form of team harnesses recently, so that they are very easy for horses, and very durable. Those who use harnesses should, twice a year, at least, give them a thorough washing with warm water, and before the leather gets fully dried, give it a coat of pure neat's foot oil. Let it dry in, then rub all the parts with a cloth, and put on with a sponge a light coat of castile soap. The cold weather has caused a great demand for the air tight stoves, as they are greatly admired by all who have tried them. Our columns very clearly indicate where they may be found in great perfection, and at moderate prices. The women are particularly pleased with the late improvement in warming their dwellings, as they can keep their Geraniums and other delicate plants in the sitting room without any fear of losing them by the frost. The new snow and cold weather has caused a great demand for Pease's Hoarhound Candy as a delightful article of medicine to cure a hacking cough. The Lyceum commenced operations Tuesday eve. by a brilliant lecture from Rev. Mr. Hedge. The City Hall was crowded, and we have rarely seen so large an audience, so intently attentive. The Washingtonians are progressing with the trial of that consummate villain and old offender, Alcohol. He is indicted for murder, and although he has employed eminent counsel, there is no hope for him. Marden has increased his stock of curiosities, figures, &c. to such an extent as to dignify his establishment as the Bangor Museum. The Proprietors of the Daily Whig have procured a lot of elegant Job and book type, and can now print books, pamphlets, bills, cards and anything of the kind in the best style, and at regular and reasonable prices. The new singing society gave a brilliant concert on Thursday evening, and it is hoped they will be induced to repeat such entertainments rather often during the winter. A large number of heavy teams, have started within a few days for the woods, carrying supplies and implements to the lumbermen. They have, this season, some of the best oxen that were ever in the State.

The new system of boating a portion of the supplies across the lakes, in order to work before they are sufficiently frozen, to allow of crossing them on the ice, is now generally followed. A boat with provisions got swamped in crossing Moosehead, a few days since. The cargo was mostly lost, but the crew were all saved. Some of the beautiful women in our city, who mean to be fashionable, are getting their cloaks made with enormous capes, while a cutt late dress maker declares that the capes now made in Boston, our seat of fashion, are actually a great deal smaller than last year. The public school for apprentices, that is young men, who cannot class very well in our other public schools, opened on Friday. This is one of the best features in the school system of our city. A week! It is but a short time indeed, but its events are a host, its changes many. To whom has the week just about to close, brought joy? to whom sor- row? to whom riches? to whom poverty? to whom friends? to whom hatred? to whom misery? to whom happiness? to whom health? to whom life, or to whom death? What all these changes in ONE WEEK? Years, and a host more numerous than the sand of the sea.

[For the Whig and Courier.]

The Concert.

It may be a day too late, but I cannot restrain from expressing my gratification at the musical entertainment on Thursday evening. The several pieces were well executed, and give evidence of the skill of Mr. Forbes, the leader, and of the proficiency of the members of the society.

We were especially pleased with the very touching song "Shed not a tear." It was admirably performed. We could not but regret the thin attendance. Surely music, and sacred music, ought to be appreciated, and its cultivation promoted, in Bangor. The society established for the improvement of our church music should meet with more encouragement, especially from the members of the different churches.

Praise is one of the appointed, and one of the most delightful parts of christian worship. It is admirably calculated to promote devotional feelings, and elevate the soul to God. Shall we neglect a science so adapted to refine the taste, and benefit the heart?

We sincerely hope that the society will not be discouraged. A taste for music must be created, or cultivated, and it can be done. We do not believe that the citizens of Bangor, will be deficient in a becoming zeal, in so good a cause, after their minds are once directed to it.

We could gladly hear another concert announced ere long, perhaps on christmas evening, and let the friends of good music, let the friends of religion attend, and encourage others to do so, that the society may not be subjected to expense to gratify the public, but may be compensated for their time and trouble, and stimulated to increase their effort.

Washingtonian Lectures.

Mr. EDITOR. I apprehend the public are not generally aware that Mr. RYDER, the Washingtonian, is now lecturing in this city. I had the pleasure of listening to his very eloquent and useful lecture last evening, and regret that so few were present to enjoy the pleasure with me.

For an hour and a half, Mr. R. enchaunced the attention of the audience with arguments in favor of teetotalism, as convincing, and with illustrations as appropriate; as any it has been my lot to hear.

Mr. Ryder lectures again this evening, and all who would like a treat, whether teetotallers, temperance men, or moderate drinkers, (I believe there are no drunkards now, the worst drinkers being only moderate) can have one in the best style, by walking up to the bar of the Old Court House.

Affairs at Botoga.

It is said that in consequence of the internal wars and confusion which has for months existed in the ill-fated Republic of Columbia, our Minister-resident at Botoga is almost a prisoner, and has not been able to communicate with his Government since March last. The North Americans on the coast have been obliged to seek shelter on board English vessels of war.

The great Navy of the United States has not been able to afford a vessel in aid of our suffering countrymen. A correspondent of the New York Express, states that the Charge to Botoga, is removed and Mr. Blachford, late editor of the Fredericksburgh, (Va.) Arena is to be appointed in his place.

HUMAN HAIR. CLEANLINESS OF THE HEAD AND HAIR.

STRANGE it is that persons who attend strictly to personal cleanliness, baths, &c should neglect the Head the most essential the most exposed and the most beautiful when properly cared for, of all the gifts of the Creator. Perfectly free may it be kept of dandruff or scurf with a certainty that the hair cannot fall out, by the use of the Balm of Columbia. Ladies, will you make your toilet without this article? I answer heartily, No, if you have once tried and experienced its purifying
effects its sweet perfume.

A hundred articles have been put forth on the credit of this, the only first, the only really valuable article. A mass of testimony from all classes to these facts.

LOOK OUT. Counterfeits are abroad, look always for the name of COMSTOCK & Co on the splendid wrappers, and never buy it without that name.

[From the Benton Chronicle Jan 10]

If we see by an advertisement in another column that Messrs. COMSTOCK & Co, the Agents for Oldridge's Balm of Columbia, have deputies to sell that article in Boston and elsewhere. We know a lady of this city whose hair was so nearly gone as to expose entirely her phenomological developments which considering that they betokened a most amiable disposition, was not in reality very unfortunate.
Nevertheless she mourned the loss of locks that she had worn and after a year's fruitless resort to mis-called restoratives purchased some months ago a bottle or two of Oldridge's Balm and she has now ringlets in rich profluous gloss, and of raven blackness. We are not puffing none of the commodity has been sent to us and, indeed we do not want any, for though we were obliged to wear a wig a year ago, we have now, through its virtue, hair enough, and of a passable quality, of our own.

Baring Fraud.

The Balm of Columbia has been imitated by a notorious counterfeiter, in Boston he purchased or used unless he have the signature of COMSTOCK & Co on a splendid wrapper. This is the only external test that will secure the public from deception.
